IS YOUR SCHOOL REACHING EVERY STUDENT?

GCI is aware of the technology challenges that staff, teachers and students alike face in the 21st century education environment.

Providing a rich learning experience with fewer and fewer resources is an ever-present obstacle that many schools must face. Video conferencing can allow your district to be more effective at utilizing its current resources to expand the learning reach across your entire district.

- Administrative Meetings - Improve collaboration between staff and increase efficiency by reducing the need to travel between locations.
- Shared Classes - Better utilize staff by sharing teaching resources across schools; makes better use of budgetary dollars while operating in a restrictive fiscal environment.
- Collaborative Learning - Create new learning opportunities with a two-way interactive learning environment that allows students to better collaborate and learn from each other, or take your classroom beyond your region with virtual field trips.
- Student Services - Ability to improve the learning experience by expanding student services district wide. Using video conferencing every student can better participate with access to resources, not always available at every school.
